“As above, so below, as within, so without, as the universe, so the soul...” Hermes Trismegistus

Hermes Trismegistus may be associated with the Greek god Hermes and the Egyptian god Thoth. The Hermetic literature among the Egyptians, which was concerned with conjuring spirits and animating statues, inform the oldest Hellenistic writings on Greco-Babylonian astrology and on the newly developed practice of alchemy. Hermetic philosophy rationalized and systematized religious cult practices and offered the adept a means of personal ascension from the constraints of physical being.

As a divine source of wisdom, Hermes Trismegistus was credited with tens of thousands of highly esteemed writings, which were reputed to be of immense antiquity

AS ABOVE DHARMA

There is no single-word translation for dharma in Western languages. In Hinduism, dharma signifies behaviours that are considered to be in accord with R̥ta, the order that makes life and universe possible, and includes duties, rights, laws, conduct, virtues and "right way of living".

The sole aim with which Dharma is advocated is to bring about the evolution of individuals. A doctrine preaches, 'that which is able to bring about evolution is Dharma.

When an individual performs Dharmacharan (Abiding by Dharma) during the course of his life, he evolves spiritually.

SO BELOW KARMA

means action, work or deed; it also refers to the spiritual principle of cause and effect where intent and actions of an individual (cause) influence the future of that individual (effect)

This work is as creation. Therefore this world is a form of working karma. Work is a form of energy. Energy is dynamism or action or work. Matter is energy. Heat, sound etc. are forms of energy. Therefore the world which consists of space, matter, light, heat, awareness etc. is essentially energy or work only. Work needs the worker. The worker is the steps of your life, your spiritual development, and your personality are directly molded by your thoughts and actions. Present you - affects future you. This creative work or dance is the game of universe

AS WITHIN MEDITATION

Dhyāna in Hinduism means contemplation and meditation. A part of a self-directed awareness and unifying process by which the practitioner realizes Self (Atman, soul), one's relationship with other living beings, and Ultimate Reality

SO OUT IT FLOWS ACTIONS/OUTCOME/JUDGEMENT

Many Hindus hold a theistic view of karma in which a personal god—such as Vishnu or Shiva—is responsible for administering karma according to a soul's actions. Non-theistic strands of Hinduism believe that karma is a matter of basic cause-and-effect without the need of a deity to mediate the effects.
